Introduction

Since its establishment in 1988, ANAT has built an enviable reputation for its role in pursuing and realising opportunities for exciting, transformational creative research. We introduce artists to scientific and research practices, scientists to creative excellence and both to the potential of new technologies and techniques. In a nutshell, we are a catalyst for groundbreaking experimentation and creation across art, science and technology.

We champion artistic excellence through our identification and support of talented professional artists and by fostering a culture of creative risk-taking. We identify and secure resources to enable artists to pursue creative research and to realise exciting, transformative artworks. We communicate the importance of creative experimentation and expression within the arts and, increasingly, throughout broader society.

Why does ANAT do this? Because we're passionate about the art that is produced, the ideas that are furthered and the changes at both a personal and community level that each makes possible.

CHAIR'S REPORT

Certainty

What a difference a year makes. 2016 became a year of certainty for ANAT, amidst a very uncertain one for the more-than 60 small to medium arts organisations unsuccessful in their bid for operational funding from the depleted federal pie. ANAT's application to the Australia Council's new four-year-funding round was successful, securing our operational future until 2020. We were also successful in our application to Arts South Australia for multiyear funding, providing assurance for a further three years of sustained support.

This operational necessity gives us confidence in our ability to deliver our strategic plan for artists working with science and technology and the new ways of thinking that their work affords us as a community. The funding certainty also allows us to collaborate more fully with existing partners and, importantly, provides a solid platform to develop new partnerships with those that are yet to experience the transformative effects of working with ANAT.

Board Update

At the 2016 Annual General Meeting we faced an unusual situation whereby several long standing Board members were reaching the end of their tenure at the same time that we had three relatively new Board members, with little in the way of a buffer of mid-serving members. As a result of this, ANAT members agreed to amend the Constitution to enable the extension of a Board member's tenure from six years to 10 years, subject to the unanimous approval of the full Board. The rationale for the change was to support effective succession planning, with the requirement for unanimous support ensuring that the achievement of stronger continuity does not compromise Board vitality.

Another change on the Board was the resignation of Associate Professor Mark Boland. We wish Mark the very best and thank him sincerely for the insightful and practical input he contributed over many years. We were also delighted to welcome Peter McNally back onto the Board and we look forward to benefiting from his wealth of experience over the coming two years.

Thank you

I would sincerely like to thank my colleagues for their dedicated work over the past 12 months. Several impressive career progressions have put great time pressure on their Board work and yet everyone has continued to make positive contributions to the strategic direction of ANAT. On a personal note, I am extremely grateful for all your generous support and important advice. Thank you to Ross Harley, Peter McNally, Jodi Glass, David Anders and Elizabeth Eastland.

To our Director, Vicki Sowry, yet again you have successfully steered our ship through choppy waters into calmer seas. You are to be congratulated.

To our small team, restricted during uncertainty of funding, thank you for all your efforts in bringing the ANAT programs into being. Thank you Melissa Juhanson, Louise Vlach and Steven 'Pix' Pickles.

This year, I would also like to thank Australia Council Chair, Rupert Myer, for fostering relationships between the Small to Medium Arts Organisation's Chairs and promoting increased Board cooperation. Your leadership in this area is commended and appreciated.

ANAT exists to foster the relationships, dialogue and practices that artists explore in pursuing interdisciplinary partnerships with scientists, technologists and other non-arts sectors. The artwork produced from these partnerships expands our imaginations, challenges our preconceptions, and creates new ways of thinking that truly enliven us as a nation.

Now, only one year away from celebrating our 30th anniversary, we are deeply grateful to our supporters – to those who sign up to our social media platforms or receive our monthly email digest, to those who apply to, or participate in, our diverse program, and to those who contact us to discuss an idea or to get advice about their career, or – even better - who lead us to entirely new places... ANAT belongs to you.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

2016 was a year where the implementation of changes to federal funding arrangements, announced a year earlier, saw over 60 small to medium organisations lose operational funding from an Australia Council under considerable fiscal pressure. By having to quarantine the impact of the funding cuts from the Major Performing Arts companies, smaller organisations and individual artists took the hit.

ANAT is one of the organisations that was successful in securing four-year key organisation funding; while so many organisations lost their operational bedrock, we kept ours. To even out the playing field, those that lost operational funding were instead encouraged to apply for project funding – never a good situation, but marginally do-able in the short term. Those with four-year funding were, however, locked out of project funding for the duration of their organisational funding term – also not ideal. Once the dust settled the sector regrouped and can now be said to be stronger, better organised and more capable of addressing the whole of sector issues that effect us all. For ANAT, we finished the year with a solid footing for the future, albeit with the challenge of finding new partners and implementing new partnership models to enable us to deliver our program of activities.

Throughout this period of upheaval I'm pleased to report that we provided regular updates and advice to the artists we support, and to the many thousands of subscribers to our various social platforms. We retained our focus on our core programs, as well as delivering to our commitments to increase our international engagement, and support South Australian artists. Please see the 2016 Artistic Program report for details of the projects we delivered throughout year.

With the surety of operational support provided by the Australia Council and the continuation of the generous support of Arts South Australia, 2016 saw changes to our staffing, with the appointment of Melissa Juhanson to the role of Operations Manager. Melissa's substantial experience at the South Australian Film Corporation, and before that at Arts South Australia, have been a real asset to ANAT over the past twelve months and contributed greatly to us meeting our financial, operational and governance targets. Louise Vlach continued to provide an excellent service to artists and stakeholders alike as 'the voice' of ANAT across our online and social platforms, doubling our digital reach in a single year in the process – no mean feat. Stephen Pickles (aka Pix) calmly and doggedly dealt with the stuff that makes ANAT possible, fixing everything from minor technical glitches to major technology melt-downs and saving our bacon countless times. Without these three, ANAT would not be in the position it is today and I sincerely thank them.

And of course, I remain indebted beyond measure to the ANAT Board; without their deep knowledge, wise counsel, sustained support and advocacy of the unique role ANAT plays in Australia's arts ecology, we would be very much the poorer. So, to Gillian Morrison (Chair), and members David Anders, Mark Boland, Elizabeth Eastland, Jodi Glass, Ross Harley and Peter McNally, I salute you!

Nan.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

ANAT provides leadership and support for interdisciplinary creative projects that bring artists together with scientists, researchers and emerging technologies. Our programs include artists' residencies, emerging technology labs, online research tools, publications, seminars and workshops.

We use open calls to select participants for all of our projects as we find this is the best way of identifying talent in a rapidly evolving environment where track records in a given technology or practice are often yet to be established. Artistic excellence is assured through the input of artistic peers in all of our participant selection processes.

The following is an overview of the projects delivered throughout 2016, which, whilst modest in number compared to previous years, reflected our core artistic focus and implemented the necessary groundwork for future projects.

ARTISTIC PROGRAM

Synapse Art/Science initiative

For more than a decade ANAT, in partnership with the Australia Council for the Arts, has facilitated opportunities for over 30 artists to work with scientists and researchers through the prestigious Synapse residency program. Due to federal funding changes, the Australia Council was unable to continue funding the program this year.

Funding applications were submitted to the Australian Copyright Agency and the Ministry for the Arts' Catalyst fund to deliver the annual residency program and to enable us to establish the Synapse Alumni Network, with its focus on network building, information exchange and identification of future interdisciplinary opportunities for member artists and researchers.

We were successful in securing 40% of the required funds from the Copyright Agency's Cultural Fund, but were unsuccessful in raising the balance of funds required through the Catalyst program.

As a result of the funding shortfall, we chose to support a single Synapse residency in 2016, with the successful recipient being Jessica Herrington, a Canberra-based visual artist, a writer for SciArt Magazine, and the arts editor for Lateral Magazine. She worked with Professor Ted Maddess, Group Leader for Diagnostics for Eye Diseases at the John Curtin School of Medical Research at the Australian National University. Together, they investigated principles of visual perception in relation to computer-mediated realities and explored how to transform 3D objects into immersive and navigable environments.

In addition, we began development work on the inaugural Alumni Network meeting, which will take place in Adelaide in 2017, and facilitated University of South Australia PhD candidate, Ashley Tower's research into the lab experience of art/science residency participants.

Other residencies

Building on our track-record in establishing and delivering interdisciplinary residencies for artists in non-arts settings, we continue to pursue opportunities to do so. In 2016 we finalised discussions with the CSIRO's Advanced Manufacturing hub in Melbourne and were successful in securing Creative Victoria funding to enable three artists to undertake residencies there in 2017. We progressed discussions with the Questacon National Science and Technology Centre in Canberra for an inaugural artist in residence in 2017 and with the Australian Antarctic Division, to partner with them on the 2017 Artist Fellowship, which supports Australian artists to experience life on the ice. Initial discussions also took place with the Charles Perkins Research Centre at the University of Sydney about establishing a national artists' residency program there in 2017.

Unfixed 2.0

Following the successful research residency that took place in Adelaide in November 2015, the second stage of the project rolled out in 2016. With the support of new funding partner, British Council Australia, the five Australian (including two South Australian) Unfixed artists travelled to the UK in September to experience the biennial Unlimited Festival. Following this they reconvened with their UK-based Unfixed colleagues for a week-long Creative Development Lab at the Pervasive Media Studios based at Watershed in Bristol.

The Lab's focus was to enable the participants to:

- Explore new ways of embedding creative technology into their practice;
- Collaborate and exchange skills, knowledge and ideas;
- Engage with the Pervasive Media Studio community and the work of its residents;
- Present outcomes at an event at Watershed at the conclusion of the Lab;
- Establish what is required to successfully deliver Unfixed 3.0 in 2017.

Invited to join the Unfixed artists for the Lab was Adelaide-based poet, writer and performer, Indigo Eli, whose work for the Unfixed Dialogues project convinced us that she'd make an excellent project scribe (we were right; see 2016 Program Documentation).

Experimenta Make Sense commissions

A new approach to audience development for ANAT was piloted in 2016, with our contribution to the Experimenta Commissions for the 2017 triennial touring exhibition, Make Sense. Our focus on the creative research and development process of artists is strengthened by our contribution to the selection and funding of four new works by Australian experimental artists.

East End Moving Image program for Adelaide City Council

Continuing our focus on creating opportunities for artists to create content for large-format and non-traditional screen spaces, ANAT again partnered with the Adelaide City Council, building on the earlier Light up the Lantern and Warriappendi Lantern projects. As well as the Rundle Lantern, in 2016 we were involved with facilitating content for the East End Moving Image Program in Rundle Street.

WORD!

Together with the Adelaide City Council we commissioned local artists Stewart Daish, Caroline Daish, David Chapple, Aiyudot Khom, Ian Gibbins, and Jessica Lumb to create a series of short experimental films – taking the artists' words to the streets of Adelaide - for screening on the East End Projector. The program screened for two-weeks in late 2016, with a further six-week season scheduled for early 2017.

Warriappendi Lights Up the Lantern

Further to its presentation as part of the inaugural Tarnanthi Festival, the Warriappendi Lights Up the Lantern works continued to screen on the Rundle Lantern throughout 2016.

30th Anniversary

ANAT celebrates its 30th anniversary in 2018. In 2016 we continued to work on the following two projects that will contribute to our anniversary celebrations.

All Grown Up

Students from the University of South Australia will continue to write up case studies of artists who participated in ANAT's early pioneering projects in order to capture the impact ANAT has had on the subsequent careers of many important artists.

SMASH – archive mash up

ANAT's collection was deposited with the State Library of South Australia in 2015. Through much of 2016 the collection was being digitised and accessioned, with the library also negotiating licensing arrangements with the relevant artists. Once complete, select works from the collection will be made available to artists to remix, reinterpret and re-present Australian media arts history.

Advocacy

ANAT continues to be active in the arts sector, locally, nationally and internationally. For example: we are a member of ArtsPeak, the national consortium of peak arts organisations; we presented on our work and the artists we support at conferences and symposia in Melbourne, Hong Kong, Brisbane, Albury, Sydney and London; we participated on industry assessment panels including Arts South Australia's CACD panel, the Australian Antarctic Division's Artist Fellowship panel, Carclew's Program Grant Advisory Committee and the Australia Council's Industry Advisory Group on Experimental and Emerging Arts. ANAT also remains an active member of the international SEAD (Science, Engineering, Art & Design) Network, and the artsactive network.

1. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

a) Basis of Preparation

The Officers of the Association have prepared the financial report on the basis that the Association is not a reporting entity because there are no users depended on general purpose financial statements. Accordingly, this is a Special Purpose Financial Report and has been prepared solely to meet the requirements of the members, the Associations Incorporation Act 1985 (SA) and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012.

The financial report covers Australian Network for Art & Technology Incorporated as an individual entity. Australian Network for Art & Technology Incorporated supports and promotes contemporary art practices that use and explore new technologies. The principal place of business of Australian Network for Art & Technology Incorporated is Adelaide, South Australia.

The financial report has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Associations Incorporations Act 1985 (SA) and in accordance with the recognition and measurement requirements specified by the Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') and the disclosure requirements of:

AASB 101	Presentation of Financial Statements
AASB 1048	Interpretation and Application of Standards
AASB 1054	Australian Additional Disclosures

These financial statements do not conform with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ('IASB').

The financial report has been prepared on an accruals basis and is based on historical costs and does not take into account changing money values or, except where stated, current valuations of non-current assets.

The following material accounting policies, which are consistent with the previous period unless otherwise stated, have been adopted in the preparation of this financial report.

b) Significant Accounting Judgements & Estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

There are no estimates or judgements which have risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

c) Income Tax

The Association is exempt from income tax pursuant to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. Accordingly Australian Accounting Standard AASB 112 has not been applied and no provision for income tax has been included in the Accounts.

d) Sponsorship Income

In-kind sponsorship is included as income relating to venue, equipment and consultancy fees for the Synapse Art/Science Residency program and Lab programs. This income is recognised where contractual agreements are signed and resources are valued at market rates. The differences in In-kind sponsorship income between years are due to changes in project sizes and support from year to year.

e) Property, Plant & Equipment & Leasehold Improvements

Each class of property, plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Depreciation

Depreciation has been provided using the diminishing value method for all office equipment. Leasehold Improvements are depreciated on a diminishing value basis at a rate of 20% which is reflective of the current lease term.

f) Impairment of Assets

The carrying amount of fixed assets is reviewed annually by the Board of the Association to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount of those assets.

The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of expected cash flows which will be received from the assets' employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have not been discounted to their present values in determining the recoverable amounts.

g) Sponsorship Expenditure

In-kind sponsorship is included as income relating to venue, equipment and consultancy fees for the projects that attracted In-kind sponsorship income at note 1(b). The differences in In-kind sponsorship expenditure between years are due to changes in project sizes and support from year to year.

h) Revenue

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST). Income arising from the contribution of an asset to the association is recognised when the association obtains control of the contribution or the right to receive the contribution, and it is probable that the economic benefits comprising the contribution will flow to the association and the amount of the contribution can be measured reliably.

i) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense.

Receivables and payables in the assets and liabilities statements are shown inclusive of GST.

j) General Reserve

The Board has implemented a policy to maintain a general reserve equivalent to twenty percent of total expenditure, excluding in-kind donations.
